

Contents

Alabama’s Civil Rights Timeline ix

Abbreviations xv

Foreword xvii

Introduction xxiii

1

The Montgomery Story: Hallowed Ground 1

E. D. Nixon and Rosa Parks: Drawing the Line 2

Sidebar: Flip Side of the Marker 10

Vernon Johns and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.: Men of God 11

Robert Graetz: A White Preacher’s Courage 20

The Frank M. Johnson Federal Courthouse: Victory in the Courts 23

The Freedom Riders 29

Sidebar: The Legacy of Alabama State University 30

Georgia Gilmore: Food for the Body and Soul 38

The Southern Poverty Law Center: Keeper of the Flame 41

Sidebar: City of St. Jude 42

2

Birmingham and the American Conscience 49

Dr. King and the Children 50

Boutwell Auditorium: Dark Days Ahead 59

Fred Shuttlesworth: Birmingham’s Man of Steel 62

Sidebar: Miles College: “We Shall Overcome” 63

Armstrong’s Barber Shop and the “Ushers” 70

Sidebar: Birmingham and the Freedom Rides] 76

The Sixteenth Street Baptist Church: Four Little Girls 74
Sidebar: The Birmingham Civil Rights Institute 84

3

Selma and the Right to Vote 87

The Quiet Beginning 89

The Courthouse and Sheriff Jim Clark 93

Sidebar: Another Boynton in History 94

Sidebar: Malcolm X in Selma 100

The Edmund Pettus Bridge: Bloody Sunday and Beyond 102

Selma University: Cradle of Heroes 110

Sidebar: Dr. Sullivan Jackson's House 111

Sidebar: Church and State 112

Alabama's First Black Congressman 114

Selma: City of Museums 117

4

Revolution in the Black Belt 123

Lowndes County: Two Martyrs and the Vote 125

Sidebar: Highway 80: The Road to Freedom 133

The Black Panthers 134

The Martyrdom of Jimmie Lee Jackson 138

Coretta Scott King: First Lady of the Movement 145

The Quilts of Gee's Bend, Wilcox County 150

Marengo County: Reclaiming the History 156

Sidebar: James Haskins, 1941–2005 163

Hale County's Safe House 164

Greene County and Dr. King's Farewell 167

5

Tuscaloosa and the Schoolhouse Door 171

George Wallace Makes His Stand 173

The Ordeal of Autherine Lucy 180

Sidebar: The Making of a Mob 186

Sidebar: First African Baptist Church 188

RFK: A Measure of Change 191

The Curious Legacy of "The Bear" 194

6

The Tuskegee Story 197

Booker T. Washington: Lifting the Veil 199

The Tuskegee Airmen 204

Sidebar: The Carver Museum 205

Shiloh: Rosenwald Schools and the Syphilis Study 212

Dr. Gomillion and the Vote 217

SNCC and the Killing of Sammy Younge Jr. 222

Sidebar: A Transfer of Power 227

Sidebar: "Invisible Man" 228

7

The Burning Bus and the Alabama Hills 229

Anniston: The Library and the Bus 231

Gadsden and the Cattle Prods 238

Talladega College and the Amistad Murals 243

Sidebar: The Message of Jerry "Boogie" McCain 244

Huntsville: A History in Pieces 249

Sidebar: Dred Scott, Little Richard, and Oakwood University 255

8

Mobile: City of Progress, City of Backlash 257

John LeFlore, Joseph Langan, and NOW 259

Spring Hill College: The First to Integrate 267

Africatown and the Last Slave Ship 272

Sidebar: Wallace Turnage: "A Slave No More" 277

Hank Aaron: Completing the Journey 280

The Last Lynching, Death to the Klan 283

Southern Justice in Mobile 287

9

Other Places of Interest 293

Bayou La Batre: The New Old South 294

Sidebar: The Eastern Shore 299

Monroeville: The Community of Atticus Finch 298

Joe Louis and Jesse Owens: Alabama Heroes 304

The Legacy of Alabama Music 309

The Scottsboro Boys 314

Ardmore: Terror in the Night 319

Acknowledgments and Sources 323

Suggested Reading 331

Index 333

About the Authors 347